Instructions to Winner

Box 1. The payer must furnish a Form W-2G to you if you receive gambling winnings subject to federal income tax withholding. See Pub. 1099 for information on the applicable reporting threshold for each type of gambling winnings.

Generally, report all gambling winnings under the "Other income" line of Schedule 1 (Form 1040). You can deduct 90% of your gambling losses as an itemized deduction, but the amount you deduct cannot be more than the amount of your winnings. Keep an accurate record of your winnings and losses, and be able to prove those amounts with receipts, tickets, statements, or similar items that you have saved. For additional information, see Pub. 529 and Pub. 525.

Box 4. Any federal income tax withheld on these winnings is shown in this box. Federal income tax must be withheld on certain winnings less the wager.

Certain winnings that are not subject to regular gambling withholding may be subject to backup withholding if you did not provide your taxpayer identification number (TIN) to the payer.

Include the amount shown in box 4 on your Form 1040 or 1040-SR as federal income tax withheld. See Pub. 505 for additional information.

Signature. You must sign Form W-2G if you are the only person entitled to the winnings and the winnings are subject to regular gambling withholding. Return the signed form to the payer, who will give you your copies.

Other winners. Prepare Form 5754 if another person is entitled to any part of these winnings. Give Form 5754 to the payer, who will use Form 5754 to prepare Form W-2G for each person listed as a winner.
